Today was my interview for the Long Island Imagine Awards. HMUH is a semi- finalist and the 20 finalists will be announced in Feb. There's a lot of great competition so wish me luck! The man drove out from Mineola to meet me at our bldg. The Bldg was a MESS- we went right from Helping with Thanksgiving for 27 families to building the float to helping somewhere around 39 families for the holidays. Mom started getting sick on Christmas I got a stomach bug so we had to dig deep to get it done. 9 hrs later- with some much appreciated help today from Michelle Mazzarone and my dad we got it looking great, the interview went great so fingers crossed! The man said he thinks they'll love me and even if we don't win we will make a lot of great connections. Going to take a little break now so we can get better and probably be back on fb in about a week. Hope you all had a great Christmas and wishing you a Happy, healthy New Year!!

Such a beautiful, busy week! Shopping, wrapping, sorting, delivering food and gifts! So very very grateful for the shoppers and wrappers who have helped us. And for our friends at Kay Jewelers who continue to donate those awesome bears and puppies for us to give to children in need- yesterday FOUR cases! We stopped in to Tj Hero's tonight and the toy box there is filled to the top. The coat box at Carlos Pizza is overflowing again... and thank you to every single person who continues to stop by with a turkey, a toy, food donations, scarves, hats, gloves- it is SO appreciated! There is no such thing as a small donation! In the midst of all this we got a call today asking for a coat in a hard to find size and thx to you all we were able to give them one. We got another from someone with no Christmas tree and thx to you all we were able to get them one. A family living in a very cold basement asked for a comforter and thx to you all we not only brought them that but also a nice new electric heater. My heart is so happy- you all are AMAZING 🥰

About to lay my head on the pillow after what I consider a perfect day- was able to give some bags of toys to COPE Officer Frank Raspanti, took the playhouse to the little boy, took a car full of toys to the Family Service Center (1700! Kids on their list), had some great volunteers come to the building bearing gifts and willing to wrap more, and was able to help out another helping friend so she doesn't have to disappoint families who were counting on a helping hand this holiday. Mom made out a final list and Lisa Corn is shopping till she drops to finish up the families we adopted. Plus Mom was able to squeeze in enough time to finally put up some outside decorations at home. Best Mom Ever ❤️ Life is good 😊

It all starts with a vision in Mom's head. When Frank says yes, I'll lend you my trailer for a week - so great of him to give up using it the whole time-the plan goes into action. Lots of collecting, finding a place to build, gathering the willing victims-I mean helpers lol who'll help build. Without the helpers the vision could never become a reality and I'm so grateful to have them! It was a great night- shout out to the Center Moriches Fire Department and the judges ! The Grin Who Saved Christmas (cause we all know I could never be mean)- BEST OVERALL FLOAT! Yippee!!

I'd like to take a minute to talk about Max's Haunted House. 17 yrs ago I was in the hospital to have my tonsils out and some other " routine " stuff. I was VERY scared when I woke up and cried until they finally agreed to let Mom take me home, instead of stay over like I was supposed to. It was a big mistake because I had a very bad reaction at home. Back then you never heard of child life departments at hospitals like you do now. And that is what Max's Haunted House raises money for- Spirit of Children- where 100% of every dollar goes to support child life departments in hospitals.

Every year for the past 4 years we've donated brand new items from our holiday float to the child life department at Stony Brook Children's Cancer Center, and they use them to bring joy to children suffering an illness we all pray about- either for someone we know, or someone a friend knows. That is why what Max works so hard to do is so important to me. And even though this is Max's thing I want to personally thank everyone who supported him and this cause. And to say again that I'd love to see him get to $2,000- he's $205 short of that goal. So if you've ever had a child who was scared in the hospital, or know someone who has... please think about helping ❤️

Today was one of those "I have an amazing life" days! First I got to speak about Helping Makes U Happy at the NYS Retired Teachers Assoc. Luncheon in Bellport. They had made HMUH their Community Service project, and presented me with a check and also a beautiful collection of books for a chinese auction prize. I got to see many of the teachers I've known for so many years, some from when I went to kindergarten at Clayton Huey. It was very emotional for me and I want to thank the retired teachers from the bottom of my heart ❤️

Then tonight I went to Hauppauge for the cover party for "Give-the magazine! And look who's in it- me! A great article with so much information about HMUH. And I met some wonderful, helping ppl.

I came home to find this very special letter in the mail, saying I'm going to receive the DAR Community Service award at the Riverhead Country Fair on Oct 7th!

And then Mom told me that Suffolk Federal Credit Union is doing another food drive for HMUH in all 9 of their branches for the whole month of Oct!!

If that's not all amazing and wonderful, I don't know what is!

Friends- thx for the prayers for Jimmie. I know we are all worried. He's in the hospital with some complications from his cancer. That's really all I know. I'm sure he'd love to know we all care so I'd like to collect cards for the Renzetti's to bring to him. So if you'd like to make or buy a card you can drop it off at the HMUH Bldg at 1 Neville St, CM- there's a mailbox there that we don't use for mail and also a plastic bin out front. Or you can mail it to HMUH, 44 Hawkins Ave., Center Moriches NY. 11934 Attn: Jimmie

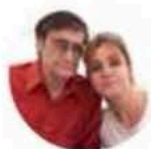

❤️let's show him the love❤️

So, I just ordered 20 Marine Graduation Sashes for our enlisted graduates of 2018, I already have the 2 Navy Sashes and the Army donates the Sashes to their enlistees. Im asking the community to maybe help out with the expense so the enlistees dont have to pay for them this year. They are $15.99 each. The pictures below are of the Sashes and a few of our graduates that are proudly serving our country.

I'm sharing this post because I think this is such a nice thing. I didn't even know they MADE special sashes! Melissa Baranello paid out of her own funds so these students who have committed to serve our country can proudly wear these sashes at graduation. Many ppl offered to donate to help with the expense but- as sometimes happens- ppl get busy, they forget, so not too much has come in. If anyone wants to send a check she'd be most grateful. P.O. Box 636, Shirley, NY 11967

There's an annual " Our Community Salutes" dinner for high school enlistees from many schools. Next year the goal is to have a sash for every enlistee- so your money for sure will be going for good!
